

JEFF OESTREICH

"Bridging the Gap: Combining Thrown and Handbuilt Elements"

Saturday and Sunday, February 6-7, 2010
10AM-4PM

Join renowned potter and artist, Jeff Oestreich, as he bridges the gap between wheel throwing and hand building. Jeff will demonstrate the techniques that have made him known throughout the world. Jeff's work is a combination of thrown pieces that are then altered in such a way that they blur the lines between thrown and hand built.

Jeff is a highly sought after workshop demonstrator and his workshops are full of insightful techniques and tricks. Be prepared for a lively discussion about aesthetics and function. Jeff is a direct descendant of the Leach tradition, having studied with Warren MacKenzie and apprenticed with Bernard Leach himself.

This is a workshop you'll want to attend.

Enrollment is limited, so sign up early.

Send your reservation to:

18 Hands Gallery
Oestreich Workshop
249 W 19th St, Ste B.
Houston TX 77008

Or Call 713-869-3099 during normal business hours to pay by credit card.

Location: Oxford Hall
1135 Oxford
Houston TX, 77008

Cost:

$100/person,
$ 80/student

You are also invited to an artist talk and slideshow by Jeff on Friday, February 5th, 6-8PM at 18 Hands Gallery, 249 W. 19th, Houston. 713-869-3099.
www.18handsgallery.com

